

Co-Parenting Classes

Sometimes divorce happens and divorce/custody issues are never easy. Creative Solutions can help parents navigate through this time with co-parenting skills that help maintain the family unit and decrease unnecessary burden on the children.

Our goal is to help you resolve your differences in a positive way – while always remembering the kids and finding an outcome everyone can live with.

Topics to be discussed:

- Divorce does not end the family unit or your role/relationship as a parent
- Importance in avoiding use of terms that cause your child to feel like an outsider.
- Importance of parenting time
- Communication NOT Confrontation
- Are you an 'approachable' parent?
- Strengthening blended families

Class curriculum is based on the center for Divorce Education's "Children in the Middle" and "After the Storm." Bettsie is a trained facilitator in both programs.
